

CASE STUDY

CUMBERLAND COUNTY TECHNICAL EDUCATION CENTER

SUMMARY

Cumberland County Technical Education Center partnered with Daida to modernize student records management through secure document digitization and cloud-based document storage. By converting paper records into searchable electronic files, Daida improved access to student information, strengthened records management, and supported compliance with New Jersey DORES requirements.

CLIENT BACKGROUND

Cumberland County Technical Education Center (CCTEC) required a secure and efficient solution for managing student records, transcripts, grade reports, and other educational documentation. The school sought to improve document accessibility, reduce reliance on paper records, and ensure compliance with New Jersey records management requirements.

THE CHALLENGE

CCTEC needed to convert paper student records into electronic files while maintaining secure access to sensitive educational information. The solution needed to support long-term document retention, improve retrieval of transcripts and academic records, reduce physical storage requirements, and help meet New Jersey DORES compliance standards.

THE SOLUTION

Daida implemented a secure document management solution that enabled Cumberland County Technical Education Center to digitize, organize, and securely manage student records. Through intelligent indexing and cloud-based storage, authorized staff gained immediate access to transcripts, grade reports, and other academic records while improving records management across the organization.

The solution also included secure document storage, built-in redaction capabilities, support for New Jersey DORES compliance, and certified document destruction services to create a complete records management program.

IMPLEMENTATION

Daida deployed a comprehensive student records management solution that included:

- Electronic conversion of student records
- Secure cloud document storage
- Intelligent document indexing and retrieval
- Secure management of transcripts and grade reports
- Support for New Jersey DORES requirements
- Built-in document redaction for sensitive information
- State of New Jersey-certified document destruction services

RESULTS

Daida now securely manages approximately 1 million document images for Cumberland County Technical Education Center through its cloud-based document management platform. Staff can quickly retrieve transcripts, grade reports, and archived student records while reducing reliance on paper files and reclaiming valuable facility space for educational activities.

Secure management of approximately 1 million document images

Reduced physical storage requirements, creating additional space for educational activities

Fast retrieval of transcripts, grade reports, and archived student records

Support for New Jersey DORES compliance

Secure cloud-based document storage

Built-in document redaction to protect sensitive information

Improved access to student records for authorized staff

CLIENT TESTIMONIAL

"The staff is always highly professional. They maintain their commitment as promised and always deliver on time. They made our decision to move forward with electronic record keeping the best one. Each step of the process was clearly explained, and they are always available and ready to help with any concerns or questions. We love working with the Daida team."
